FAST FUGITIVE FINALLY CAUGHT

Constable Wilson Arrests Clarence Reese when he Attempts to Board Freight Here. Alleged to have Burglarized.

Charles H. Wilson this morning arrested Clarence Reese, of near Emmitsburg. The young man is said to be wanted for the burglary of a store near Highfield, for entering and robbing a hotel at Pen Mar and for train riding. With a brother he has been eluding capture for some time, the pair having a reputation for rapid traveling when pursued.

The Reeses are said to have secured provisions and money at the time of their operations last summer and for some months Mr. Wilson has been on the lookout for the men. He has seen them in the mountain near Highfield and always gave chase only to be distanced by the rapid runners. Shots failed to halt or alarm them and until this morning both always got away in safety.

Mr. Wilson got Reese as he was about to board a freight in the local yards. He had no difficulty in arresting the fellow and soon placed him in Sheriff Fiesel's care.

Train riding is said to be one of the special means of traveling which Reese and his brother follow. They ride under passenger cars, according to Mr. Wilson, and are expert freight jumpers. The capture of the one is considered quite a feat and Mr. Wilson will now make an extra effort to get the other brother.

MUST BE 1910 CROP

All corn exhibited at the annual corn show at Harrisburg January 24 to 27 must be of 1910 growth and no seedman or employee of seedmen may compete. No entrance fee will be charged and all exhibits should be consigned to Pennsylvania Live Stock Breeders' Association, care of H. E. Klugh, Johnson building, Harrisburg.

An exhibitor may enter as many classes as he desires but not more than 2 entries may be made in any one class. Unclassified corn will be classified by the judges. Any mark of identification by exhibitor on the corn exhibited is positively forbidden but on the inside of the package containing the corn, the exhibitor must place a card bearing his name and address and class of exhibit. After the corn is judged the exhibitor may mark his corn.

All indications point to the biggest show of the kind ever held in the State, and it will be one of the features of the coming annual meeting of the Live Stock Breeders' Association.

UNVEILED PRESIDENT'S PICTURE

Phrena Literary Society of the college on Friday evening unveiled a handsome enlarged picture of Dr. William A. Granville. A special program was rendered for the occasion, the Phrena Orchestra playing several selections, and an essay and several orations and recitations making up the students' part of the evening. Dr. Bickle made the address for the unveiling and President Granville the response. Dr. Granville is the first person, not a member of the society, whose picture has been hung in the hall.

Toole's Stamp

Seymour Hicks in his book of reminiscences tells this story about the great English comedian and practical joker, Toole:
"I remember being in London with him once when he went into the general postoffice and asked for a penny stamp. The clerk brought out a huge sheet and Toole said, 'I want that one.'"
"Which one?" said the clerk.
"That one," said Toole, pointing to the center one.

"A long argument ensued, Toole saying that in purchasing a stamp he had a perfect right in law to choose the one he fancied, and so emphatic was he on the point that he had his way, but not before he had created a disturbance and clerks from other counters had left their work to see what was going on."

INJURED MAN SUFFERS MUCH

Frank Nichols with Eyesight Destroyed and Severe Wounds to his Body Lingers in Chambersburg Hospital Suffering Greatly

Lingering for hours in a frightfully maimed condition, Frank Nichols the young man whose left hand was blown off, eyesight destroyed and legs broken by an explosion of dynamite caps near Highfield was reported to be still living at the Chambersburg hospital at a late hour today, although little hope is entertained that he will survive.

Throughout the long journey by trolley to Chambersburg the injured man retained consciousness, and was able to converse with those near, though evidently suffering great agony. After reaching the hospital, however, Nichols became delirious.

The operations were performed by Drs. H. C. Devillbiss and J. M. Gelwix of the hospital staff.

Although the right foot of Mr. Nichols was badly lacerated and parts of the flesh torn away, it was not considered necessary to amputate that member.

The Nichols family, father and mother, and boys live at a little place in the mountains near Cascade, and the home folks do farming on a small scale and take in boarders. Samuel is a motorman on the Chambersburg, Greencastle and Waynesboro and Alfred, another son, is a railroad engineer.

It is said that two cousins of Frank Nichols have met violent deaths.

OXFORD REAL ESTATE SALES

New Oxford, Jan. 7.—F. L. Weaver, proprietor of the Hanover street foundry and machine shop, on Saturday purchased from Mr. Nicholas Lingg, the two story frame house on East High street, now occupied by George A. Miller and family, with two vacant lots at rear for $2,000.

Report has it that Mr. Nicholas Lingg, millwright, residing at the edge of town, present traveling agent for the Fitz Water Wheel Works, Hanover, has purchased on private terms the well known Diehl mill property, along the Gettysburg pike, near town. The purchase comprises all the property on the south side of the pike, about seven acres of land, with the large four story brick and stone mill, with water and steam power, saw mill, two story brick tenant house, etc.

J. W. Barnitz and John C. Myers, executors of the will of Clayton H. Myers, sold two vacant lots on West High street, at public sale to H. H. Diehl, at $50 and $70. The house and lot in Huntington township, was not sold.

DECISION FOR POWER COMPANY

The Dauphin county court Friday sustained the contention of the York Haven Power Company for a reversal of the judgment of a jury which some months ago awarded James Duffy, Donald Cameron Duffy and Mary Agnes Duffy $14,000 damages in their suit against the York Haven company because of the flooding in 1901, of Duffy's island in the Susquehanna river which was attributed to the construction of the power company's dam.

Damage to the extent of $25,000 was claimed. The trial lasted two weeks and resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff. A motion for judgment for the defendant in spite of the verdict was filed by the York Haven company and the decision Friday sustains this.

TELEPHONES FOR MANY FARMERS

Hundreds of County Homes Have Communication with Friends and Business Houses through Telephone Lines.

Few people, except those who frequently have communication with Adams County's progressive farmers, realize how many of them have telephones in their homes and how often they use these means of intercourse with distant places as well as with the nearby towns and their neighbors.

The United Telephone exchange here now serves 111 patrons on farmers' lines and within the next week will add the White Run Telephone Company with about a dozen more subscribers. The other farmers' companies are the Marsh Creek, the Carroll Tract, the Peach Orchard, the Highland and the Barlow. The Carroll Tract line supplies thirty eight subscribers. In addition the Biglerville exchange has four farmers' company lines, the Pleasant Dale, the Bendersville Station, Franklin Township and Menallen Township. Seventy one farm houses are connected in this way. Littlestown supplies the Mount Joy line.

The Gettysburg exchange has direct communication through all with almost seven hundred subscribers in this way.

The Bell Company through its local exchange reaches all the towns in the county except Idaville, York Springs, Gardners and other places in that section. Work at extending the lines there is now in progress.

The rural people use their lines regularly to find market prices, to sell goods in Gettysburg and nearby cities, to have social chats with their neighbors and friends and the telephone is proving a veritable boon to those not living in town.

Their wants are quickly attended to by the operators at the two Gettysburg exchanges and at the others in the county. The operators at the United here are Mrs. Schmitzer, Miss Willis, Miss Troxell, Miss Stehle, Miss Grenoble. The Bell operators are Miss McSherry, Mrs. McGuire, Miss Widder.

EQUALED POOL RECORD

McSherrytown, Jan. 7.—"Spiky" Klunk created a sensation during the 60-9 ball pool contest with "Midget" Brady, this week, in the Legion rooms. He also won distinctive title as the champion pool player of Pennsylvania—equalled the record high-run of 81, made by Albert Darr, November 30, in New York City. "Spiky" successively cleared the table five times. Naturally some of the shots were of a sensational order, and difficult double and triple combination shots were made with ease. Had it not been for a slip on seventh ball in the sixth frame he would have broken the world's record, with a run of 93.

The feat of equaling the record of 81, was testified to by Graham, the well-known sporting editor of the Philadelphia North American. "Spiky" has now qualified for fast company, and it is altogether likely that he will push his cue into match games with the "big uns" in the near future.

SCHOOL FOR GUARDSMEN

Papers of interest to the National Guardsmen of the state were read and discussed at the opening session in Philadelphia Friday of the annual convention of the National Guard Association of Pennsylvania.

Captain Robert G. Woodside, of the 18th regiment, declared that more extensive study should be given the officers of the guard. He recommended that three periods of three months each be set aside as study periods in a school to start in September and to extend to May of the following year. An examination, the captain said, should follow and an officer not making an average of at least sixty five should be dismissed from the service. He also recommended a board of regular army officers to be appointed as a faculty of the school. A committee was appointed to look into the matter along the lines suggested by Captain Woodside.

APPEAL TEMPLE IRON SUIT

Government Carries Decision to the United States Supreme Court. Washington, Jan. 7.—The federal government filed in the supreme court of the United States an appeal from the so-called "hard coal trust" decision of the circuit court of the United States for the eastern district of Pennsylvania.

The decision held, in substance, that the petition of the government charging generally a combination of railroad and coal companies in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law should be dismissed.

At the same time, it was held that there was an illegal combination in respect of the matters relating to the Temple iron company, which the court would restrain.

$50,000 MAIL BAGS STOLEN

Three Sacks Disappear From Trains In San Francisco.

San Francisco, Jan. 7.—Three bags of registered mail, with contents valued at $50,000, have been stolen during the last few days in San Francisco on the journey across the harbor to Oakland.

The stolen sacks contained late Christmas shipments and money orders, drafts, checks and currency forwarded by local banks to close their year's accounts in the east and north-west. The loss will fall most heavily on the banks.

BRAZILIAN REBELS DIE SUDDENLY

45 Succumb to Gangrene, Sunstroke and Suffocation.

Rio Janeiro, Brazil, Jan. 7.—According to the Jornal Do Commercio, Joao Candido, the sailor leader of the recent revolt in the Brazilian navy, and forty-four other mutineers have met sudden deaths.

Candido succumbed to gangrene while a prisoner, twenty-six of his associates died from sunstroke while engaged in repairing the fortress on Co-bras Island, and eighteen others were suffocated in their cells in the prison on Villegaignon Island.

A rigid censorship maintained by the government, since the revolt in the navy was put down, makes it impossible to confirm officially the rumors of recent rioting at Para and elsewhere.

Niteroi, capital of the state of Rio Janeiro, and situated across the harbor from the federal capital, is under martial law. Two presidents and two legislatures claim office at Niteroi and troops occupy all the public buildings.

The sudden deaths of forty-five of the naval mutineers of Brazil, who surrendered after forcing the government to agree to reforms in the navy, is suggestive of the possibility that the amnesty promised is not being granted. The revolt last fall in which these men took part, the "gangrene" victim being the leader, was in no sense political. It was aimed solely at hardships incident to the Brazilian naval service.

NEW CHARGES AGAINST ROBIN

Seven Additional Indictments Against New York Banker.

New York, Jan. 7.—Seven additional indictments were returned by the grand jury against Joseph C. Robin, the banker, charging him with stealing $127,000 from the Washington Savings bank, of which he was president.

These, added to the indictment previously found charging Robin with the theft of $80,000 from the same institution, bring the amount he is accused of stealing from the Washington Savings bank up to $207,000.

This in all probability does not represent the entire amount of Robin's thefts from the savings bank, for the grand jury has not finished its examination of Robin's dealings with the Washington. The operations which led to the closing of the Northern bank have yet to be gone into.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

BRIEF AGAINST THE OIL TRUST

Supreme Court Asked to Hold Standard Co. Illegal.

OFTEN DECLARED INVALID

Supplemental Brief Declares Company Was Held to Be Unlawful in Suits in Many of the States.

Washington, Jan. 7.—That the supreme court of the United States should hold the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey to be an unlawful combination in restraint of trade, because the states have so held it under their anti-trust statutes, is the argument put forward by Attorney General Wickham and Special Counsel Kellogg and Severance, in their supplemental brief filed in support of their case against the Standard.

Government counsel also maintain that congress meant to apply the Sherman anti-trust act "to cover any form or device employed to hold together corporations or naturally competing business establishments so as to eliminate competition."

The decisions of various state courts declaring the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey a combination in violation of state statutes were cited. The statutes under which the Standard Oil company was declared an unlawful combination in restraint of trade are declared to be "in effect as applied to intra state commerce substantially the same as the Sherman act applied to interstate commerce." The decisions of the states in the view of the attorney general and the other government counsel "evidence a great public policy of this nation, which is a material consideration in this court."

States Enforcing Anti-Trust Laws.

The point is made that many of the states are enforcing these statutes, and "unless the federal government enforces the Sherman act we shall have the anomalous condition of these great combinations being held invalid as to intra state commerce and excluded from the states, while as to interstate commerce they may continue to do business under the shield of federal authority."

In every case brought against the Standard Oil company in any of the states under anti-trust statutes, the combination has been held to be invalid, says the government's counsel.

The government's brief contends that combinations effected by purchase are equally within the prohibitions of the law. This was in reply to the contention of the Standard Oil attorneys that the first section of the Sherman law did not cover the combinations of competing concerns. The attorneys for the Standard Oil company contend in their brief that purchases and acquisitions of property are not contracts, combinations or conspiracies in restraint of trade, and that as a person has a right to buy a competing business and that the incidental restraint which goes with this purchase cannot be prohibited by congress.

The attorney general and his associates dismissed this contention by the statement that it is the same kind of argument that was urged in the Northern Securities company, in which the court held to the contrary. The government's counsel insist that the status of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey presents exactly the same situation as the Northern Securities case.

FAVOR 433 SEATS IN HOUSE

Census Committee Tentatively Agrees on Reapportionment.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Congressional reapportionment under the new census figures so as to increase the membership of the house to 433 was the plan tentatively favored by the house committee on census at a meeting.

This figure would protect each state from diminished numerical representation and is exclusive of Arizona and New Mexico.

The committee will meet again on Tuesday, when Census Director Durand and two of his assistants, Messrs. Wilcox and Hill, each of whom has presented plans for the reapportionment, will discuss their views.

Highwaymen Killed Policeman.

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 7.—Two armed bandits entered a Superior-Duluth street car near the interstate bridge and held up the passengers and crew. Policeman Chesmore boarded the car on his way to work, not knowing the bandits were at work. He was shot and killed. The robbers escaped. They are being pursued by men in automobiles.

ASPHYXIATED BY AUTO

Physician Is Overcome by Gas From Engine and Dies.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Gas emanating from an engine of an automobile caused the death of Dr. John Aloysius Hemsteger, fifty-six years old.

The doctor died from the effects of carbon dioxide which he inhaled while cleaning his machine. The death is said to be the first of its kind on record.

According to Edward Hemsteger, his son, the physician found that a quantity of carbon had accumulated in the muffler and engine cylinders and poured a mixture of wood alcohol and kerosene into them to clean them out. He then started the engine and opened the cut-off valve in the muffler. The garage door was closed and there was no outlet for the gas.

The physician was almost overcome, but he managed to open the door of the garage. He was taken to his residence, where he died the next day. Physicians held an autopsy and declared that death was due directly to poisoning of the heart by the carbon dioxide gas.

Grace was competing for the Baron de Forest prize of $20,000 for the English aviator who made the longest flight, including the crossing of the channel, in an English made machine.

BOYS ADMIT SENDING UP STRANGE AIRSHIP

Attached Clothes Basket to Gas Bag to Form Balloon.

Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 7.—After hoaxing the entire city and surrounding community and keeping the inhabitants in suspense for twelve hours, Seth T. McCormick, 3d, twelve years old; Henry Crocker, also twelve years old; and Zopher Howell Whitman, aged fourteen years, announced that they had constructed and set afloat the dirigible balloon that passed over Williamsport.

The youths made a gas bag twelve feet long and attached a clothes basket to it as a car. In the basket they placed a dummy figure and a card bearing their names.

The dirigible came to earth ten miles from Williamsport and was found by John M. Hayes, who notified Attorney Seth T. McCormick, father of Seth, the third. The boys are the sons of well known families.

It was their first intention to try out the balloon with a human occupant, but they finally decided to send up a dummy figure to see how the contrivance would work.

THE PROPER COURSE

Information of Priceless Value to Every Gettysburg Citizen.

How to act in an emergency is knowledge of inestimable worth, and this is particularly true of the diseases and ills of the human body. If you suffer with backache, urinary disorders, or any form of kidney trouble, the advice contained in the following statement will add a valuable asset to your store of knowledge. What could be more convincing proof of the efficiency of Doan's Kidney Pills than the statement of Gettysburg citizens who have been permanently cured?

Mrs. Elizabeth Beiler, 1 Steinwehr Ave., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "I am just as well as new after taking Doan's Kidney Pills today as I was two years ago, when I publicly told of my experience with them. I was afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble and all my efforts for relief were unavailing. The kidney secretions passed irregularly and caused much distress. Pains often shot across my body and my health was all run down. Hearing so much about Doan's Kidney Pills, I was led to get a box at the People's Drug Store and give them a trial. They cured me and I have since enjoyed good health."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Noted Rupture Expert Coming to York

Well Known to Leading Physicians, Who Indorse His Method.

W. B. SEELEY, of Philadelphia, the noted truss expert, will be in York and will remain at the Hotel Penn., from Monday noon until Wednesday noon January 9th to 11th.

Mr. Seeley says the Spermatic Shield Truss, as now used and approved by the U. S. Government, will not only retain any case of rupture perfectly, affording immediate relief, but closes the opening in a short time on the average case, and costs far less than the numerous fraudulent schemes so often worked upon the unsuspecting sufferer.

It produces results without surgery or harmful injections.

The merit of this instrument was appreciated by the Czar of Russia, who procured one for his own use.

Mr. Seeley has many old customers in this vicinity, whom he hopes to have call. He will also be glad to show interested parties his patented appliances, or he will demonstrate the reliability of their work without charge.

Ruptured persons should remember the date and take advantage of this unusual opportunity.

MAY ELOSSER ALSO POISONED

Inquest Reveals That She Also Drank Ueadly Cyanide.

GLASSES ON THE PIANO

First Session of Coroner's Inquest Into Double Poisoning Elicits Some Startling Testimony.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 7. — Sensational developments came at the coroner's inquest into the death of Grace Elosser and Charles Edward Twigg, who died from cyanide of potassium poisoning on the eve of their wedding in the Elosser home.

Testimony was brought out that May Elosser, upon whom much suspicion has been cast, also had taken poison and that she was found lying on the floor near the dead body of her sister.

It was brought out that glasses had been found on the top of the piano, as if the poison had been taken through that agency.

Several hundred persons fought for admittance to the Steir undertaking establishment, in which the proceedings were conducted by District Attorney Robb and Coroner Beall. The inquest was not concluded.

The following men composed the jury: Albert Charles, foreman; Elbert O. Burch, Albert E. Geison, Abel D. Randall, Willard F. McElfish, George L. Hahne, Walter E. Palmer, William C. McCraig, James H. Sirlough, Godfrey Felt and George C. Frey.

Died of Potassium.

The first of the twenty-eight witnesses called by Mr. Robb was Dr. Thomas W. Koon. He said:

"I was called into the case and found post mortem examination proved that Twigg and Miss Elosser died from cyanide of potassium poisoning. I think it was in the liquid form. The throats and stomachs were inflamed."

Dr. F. E. Harrington, of the board of health, was then called. He said the stomachs and kidneys in both cases were inflamed.

Dr. Harrington testified that the stomach of Miss Elosser contained fruit cake, and that there were indications of poisoning in the organ. He said that he could not tell whether this had been taken in wine or not.

Relative to poison in the chewing gum found in the mouth of Twigg, he declared there were no traces, and that the poison was found in the stomach and no other organ.

Dr. George L. Broadbent followed Dr. Harrington and corroborated him to his testimony.

Dr. William R. Foard, the first physician to arrive on the scene, testified that May Elosser, sister of the dead girl, who had fainted, showed decided symptoms of cyanide poisoning. Dr. Foard said the convulsions, mottled condition of the face, staring expression, blood tinged foam on the mouth and other symptoms in May's condition were those of slight poisoning. May was revived after fifteen minutes' work. Dr. Foard used household ammonia brought from the store and with it he saturated his own handkerchief, which was placed on May's face.

Dr. Foard said that when he entered the house the family was all agitated, and Mrs. Elosser and her daughter May were crying. He found Grace dead after a thorough examination, and he didn't know of Twigg's dead body in the next room until he was ushered in by Mr. Elosser, who said: "Just see what's in here."

Describing the symptoms of cyanide of potassium poisoning, he said that they were clenched hands or convulsions.

The Last Resource.

The fat gentleman, like many other misguided members of the portly brigade, decided to try golf as a weight reducer. Armed with four sticks, a ball and a caddy, he marched off to the links.

The caddy placed the ball upon the tee. Then with a terrific swing the fat man whirled his club through the air. But the little white ball still stayed smiling on its tee, while the club, meeting Mother Earth, broke into splinters.

LAFAYETTE YOUNG.

Washington, Jan. 7.—W. S. Kenyon, assistant to the attorney general, who is known as the trust buster of the administration, has gone to Iowa to push his candidacy for the United States senate.

Friends of Mr. Kenyon believe that he stands a good chance of succeeding Lafayette Young, who was appointed by Governor Carroll to fill the vacancy created by the death of Jonathan P. Dolliver. Mr. Kenyon is a progressive, although he has not affiliated with the Cummins faction of the party in Iowa. Mr. Kenyon is likely to figure as a compromise candidate.

NO PARDON IN PEONAGE CASE

President Refuses to Commute Harlan's Sentence.

Washington, Jan. 7.—President Taft has refused to commute the sentence of W. S. Harlan, manager of a great lumber and turpentine company doing business in Florida and Alabama, convicted of conspiracy to violate the peonage statute of Florida.

Harlan must serve a term of eighteen months' imprisonment and pay a fine of $5000.

In his comments, speaking of peonage, the president says:

"It is a kind of offense that is regarded lightly in some communities. If permitted to live at all, it will spread rapidly its demoralizing influence."

"When, therefore, a man of high business standing and large enterprises is convicted of the offense the punishment should be such as to deter others from the practice. Fines are not effective against men of wealth. Imprisonment is necessary."

FIRE AND PANIC IN CHURCH

Twenty-one Dead and Many Others May Die In Mexican Disaster.

San Luis Potosi, Mex., Jan. 7. — Twenty-one persons are dead and many others may die as the result of a fire and panic in the chapel of the Hacienda Cardenas.

The fire was caused by the candles on the altar and most of the deaths occurred in the panic-stricken rush of the worshippers to get out of the small church.

It is feared that the death list may reach fifty or more, but details as to the fire and names of the dead and injured are unavailable.

West Union, O., Jan. 7.—The highest fine given a vote seller by Judge Blair was inflicted when William Grooms, who pleaded guilty to selling his vote for $10, was sentenced to pay $200. Judge Blair placed the fine at $500, but $300 was remitted. Grooms, who is eighty-three years old, owns 400 acres of good farm land and is reputed to be worth $50,000. He lives three miles from West Union. He refused to come to court and Deputy Sheriff William Cooper was sent after him. Judge Blair was angry and said he ought to send him to the penitentiary.

"Give me another club, boy!" said the fat man.

Alas, club No. 2 shared the fate of club No. 1, club No. 3 emulated the evolutions of club No. 2, and club No. 4 flew into a hedge.

And still the little white ball smiled on.

"What would you do now?" asked the sadder and wiser golfer, wiping his forehead as he turned in desperation to the caddy.

Holding out the empty bag, the urchin replied:

DEADLOCK IN DELAWARE

Senate Unable to Form Permanent Organization.

TO ELECT U. S. SENATOR

After Thirty-six Ballots For President No One Is Near the Coveted Nine Votes.

Dover, Del., Jan. 7.—For the twelfth time in fifteen years the Delaware legislature is tied up on the election of a federal senator.

United States Senators Dupont and Richardson, Delaware's representatives, had a conference in Washington over the question of delay necessitated by the present assembly deadlock. Senator Richardson came home for his week-end stay.

"The legislature cannot now regularly elect a senator until Jan. 24, and if they do not organize next Tuesday not until the 31st," said the junior senator. Under the federal provisions he said the practice was not to recognize a temporary organization, but to require that the election of a senator should be two weeks after permanent organization and notification thereof to the governor.

The senate took two ballots on its presidency, with no change in the voting and nobody near the coveted nine votes. Two representatives, Tebo and Evans, both Republicans, and one senator, Hazel, Republican, will keep the session alive by holding a perfunctory session and taking the usual vote.

The senate's thirty-sixth ballot, the last of the week, showed this result: Miller, Republican, 7; Monaghan, Democrat, 5; Sheldrake, 1; Drexler, 1.

POLICEMAN HELD UP

Thieves, Getting No Money, Locked Him In Cell.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 7.—Burglars broke into the town hall at Plains, near this city, and at the point of revolvers forced Police Officer Jordan to open the desk in the office of the township treasurer.

He told the men, who, he says, were masked, that there was no money in the desk and at first refused to open it, but when they threatened him with their revolvers, he unlocked it.

They searched, but found no money, and were then so angry at their failure that they threw Jordan into a cell and locked the door. Several hours later he managed to attract the attention of persons passing by and got them to unlock the door.

HELD FOR CONSPIRACY

Builders of $2,000,000 Court House Must Stand Trial.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 7. — After four hearings, Magistrate Barrett, of Pittston, held Frank Carlucci, the contractor, and McCormick and French, the architects of the new $2,000,000 court house, in $1000 bail for trial at court on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the county in the erection of the building.

The briefs in the case were submitted to the grand jury. The specific charge against the defendants is that they substituted inferior for first class material in the construction of the building.

BIG LOCOMOTIVE ORDER

Pennsy Sues For $2.16.

St. Louis, Jan. 7.—Alton S. Miller, president of the Union Electric Light and Power company, was made defendant in a justice court suit for $2.16. The plaintiff is the Pennsylvania Railroad company. No declaration was filed in the case, but according to Mr. Miller a reservation on a Pullman between Philadelphia and Belmar, N. J., last summer, which he refused to pay for because he did not get the seat, was the cause. He said he was obliged to stand up all the way.

Fish Law Violators Fined.

Atlantic City, Jan. 7.—Harry Hilton was fined $200 by Magistrate Charles U. DeHart for violation of the state law requiring a license for menhaden fishing and for using nets inside the three-mile limit. This was the first case in the war recently declared by hook and line fishermen and the menhaden netters who, it is said, have seriously depleted the supply of food fish by illegal netting.

Four Men Killed In Tunnel.

Connellsville, Pa., Jan. 7.—While going through the Pinkerton tunnel on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad near here, Ben Querny, a foreman, and three of his men were killed by the New York and Pittsburgh express. The men were on their way to work on the extension of the Western Maryland railroad.

"Don't give in, guv'nor! Give it a swipe with this!"

A Good Excuse.

As an instance of acute hydrophobia it is difficult to surpass the story of the Scotch boatman who while crossing a loch was asked if he would take some water with his whisky and replied: "Na; there was a horse drowned at the head of the loch two years ago."

The head of the loch was twenty-four miles distant.

CRUELLY DECEIVED.

A Weary Willie Who Was a Victim of Misplaced Confidence.

The tramp had walked a good three miles and was particularly thirsty. A sudden turn in the road brought him to the foot of a steep hill, at the top of which stood a large house. The tramp paused a moment before attempting the herculean feat of storming the hill. He felt hungry and thirsty. He glanced to the left. These words caught his eye: "Tarry, traveler, and refresh thyself." The tramp was sorry the sign was attached to a pump handle. However, water was better than nothing, so he commenced to

HE COMMENCED TO PUMP.

The spout remained dry. He pumped with more vigor. Still no water. After ten minutes of hard work he said harsh things about the pump and continued his journey. At the top of the hill he mentioned his grievance to a native. The latter pointed to the fine house across the road.

"The owner of that house," he said, "has some big water cisterns which have to be filled from a stream in the valley. He is too lazy to fill 'em himself, though, so he rigged up that pump and connected it with his cisterns, and now—"

But the tramp was already sprinting across the road.

Breaking It Gently.

Callahan was stopped on the street by Father Clancy. The good priest's countenance took on a sad expression.

"What's this I hear, Callahan," asked he, "about your breaking Hogan's head last night? And the two of you friends for years?"

Callahan seemed somewhat taken back. "Sure, I was compelled to do it, your reverence," he explained apologetically; "but, out of consideration for that same friendship, I broke it gently, your reverence."—Lippincott's.

Nature's Hair Restorer

One Great Reason Why

This Great Hair Beautifier and Color Restorer Produces Such Remarkable Results

Sulphur is a Natural Element of the Hair

When there is not a sufficient amount of sulphur in the hair, it loses its life, color and strength, turns gray, and falls out. There are many forms of sulphur, but only one kind that is suitable for treatment of the hair and scalp, and that is the kind used in preparing WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY.

We Have the Secret, and We Give You the Benefit of it at an Exceedingly Low Price

BALDNESS CURED

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair, and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

Item for Women

Marlboro, Mass., June 1, 1910. I can frankly say that Parisian Sage has given me perfect satisfaction, and I highly recommend it as a hair restorer and beautifier, and a sure cure for dandruff. I also have recommended it to several people, and it has given wonderful results.—Mrs. G. Bartheaux 26 Main Street.

Cynthiana, Ky., June 3, 1910. I have only used two bottles of Parisian Sage, and I find my hair has increased wonderfully in thickness and luxuriance and beauty. The dandruff all disappeared. I was wonderfully surprised, as I have tried many hair restorers, though I have found none that ever has helped my hair except Parisian Sage, so I can say it is worth all of the hair restorers I have ever found, and I will tell many friends about it. Gratefully your friend, Miss M. Clough, Box 212.

The People's Drug Store guarantees Parisian Sage to kill dandruff, remove scurf, eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, or money back. It is the most delightful and refreshing hair dressing in the world and is not sticky or greasy. The People's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell it for 50 cents a large bottle. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

AFFAIRS OF THE NATIONAL GRANGE

Some Facts and Figures Relating to Grange Work.

National Master Bacheider reported that 154 new subordinate granges and 85,000 new members have been added the past year. This is the best record, with the exception of last year, for thirty-five years. He urged better distribution for farm products, federal aid for road building, parcels post, direct election of United States senators, nonpartisan tariff commission and opposed ship subsidy, a central United States bank and amendment of oleo law in the interest of imitation butter.

Mrs. E. S. McDowell, treasurer of the national grange, reported that the receipts during the year, including the balance Oct. 1, 1900, of $7,079.72, were $56,737.79 and that the amount paid out during the year was $35,494.89. The total resources of the national grange are now as follows: Balance with the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, $21,243.40; deposits in savings banks, $10,800.87; railway and other bonds, $45,068.71; loans on real estate, $40,248.99; unexpended grange extension fund, $964.86; unexpended deputy fee fund, $890; total, $118,825.83.

The grange extension fund for the year as appropriated by the national grange at the November, 1900, session was $9,000. In all $11,267.54 was expended in extension work. This includes $2,969.93 paid for national grange official organs sent to charter members. The amount paid for organization efforts was distributed as follows: South Dakota, $1,187.95; Minnesota, $1,038.88; Iowa, $803.28; Maryland, $666.30; Missouri, $503.45; Washington, $348.43; Colorado, $325; Michigan, $315.85; Kentucky, $310.10; Idaho, $292.45; Vermont, $213.14; Illinois, $170.42; Ohio, $115.81; Wisconsin, $109.50; Indiana, $78.20; Kansas, $61.93.

The amounts paid to the national grange by the various grange states are as follows: New York, $4,468.11; Maine, $4,137.00; Michigan, $2,204.22; New Hampshire, $1,782.01; Pennsylvania, $1,744.62; Ohio, $1,506.83; Massachusetts, $1,038.44; Vermont, $856.10; New Jersey, $806.41; Washington, $470.69; Oregon, $398.67; Kansas, $369.28; Connecticut, $334.81; Delaware, $148.07; Maryland, $131.07; Rhode Island, $116.02; Colorado, $104.22; Illinois, $104.70; California, $90.52; West Virginia, $88.14; Missouri, $98.10; Indiana, $80.33; Kentucky, $53.01; Iowa, $40.55; Texas, $28.52; Idaho, $24.58; Wisconsin, $24.24; Minnesota, $16.00; South Dakota, $13.05; Tennessee, $2.18.

National Grange Organ.—So much dissatisfaction with the management of this paper has been current, particularly since that unfortunate proposal for a contract was issued last May, that the national grange decided to discontinue the publication of it with the last December (1910) number, when the contract with the Rumford Printing company of Concord, N. H., expires, and to re-establish the National Grange Bulletin, to be owned, controlled and published by the national grange, under direction of a board of management consisting of the national grange lecturer, overseer and chairman of the executive committee. This National Grange Bulletin is to be issued monthly, and the annual expense shall not exceed $3,000.

Nominating Speeches.—A resolution from Pennsylvania state grange presented by State Master Crensy stated that in state granges having more than 500 delegates nominating discussions of the qualifications of candidates for state grange offices be permitted. A ruling was made by the national grange a few years ago prohibiting anything except presentation of the candidates' names. The Crensy resolution was disapproved by the bylaws committee and defeated.

Proportional Representation.—Two resolutions asking for change in the basis of representation of the national grange came respectively from Pennsylvania and Washington. One advocated a delegate for every 10,000 members in a state; the other asked for increased voting power for the delegates as now constituted (state master and wife to provide one extra vote for each 1,000 members. These were both defeated.

Next Meeting Place.—Washington Ohio and South Dakota invited the national grange for next year. The vote went: Ohio, 30; Washington, 18; South Dakota, 3. The meeting will be held at Columbus.

State Master F. N. Godfrey of New York was re-elected to the executive committee.

NATIONAL GRANGE POLICY.

In Response to Two Important Questions, the Tariff and the Railroads.

The following resolutions were adopted by the national grange as indicating its policy on the subjects alluded to:

Resolved: That the national grange at its forty-third annual session condemned the tariff law of 1900 as unjust to the farmer of the country and in no sense in accord with the promises of tariff revision by the party responsible for its enactment.

Resolved: That the national grange urges that in any future revision of our tariff laws the duties upon any article should never exceed the difference between the labor cost of producing such article in this country and in foreign countries; and

Resolved: That we favor the immediate amendment of the present tariff act so as to reduce the excessive protection now given to many staple manufactured articles.

Shocked His Dad.

A pious and strict father, whose small son balked at going to church, showed the irreverent boy one day a history of New England.

"Here is a picture of the Puritans going to church," said the father. "What good and pious men! Notice their sugar loaf hats. They walk in single file through the deep snow, and each man carries a gun."

"What do they carry guns to church for?" the boy asked with sudden interest.

"For fear of the Indians," was the else the production of which is controlled by trusts and monopoly combinations; and

Resolved: That we urge a material reduction of the duties on all articles which are sold by our manufacturers in foreign markets at lower prices than those charged to the people of the country; and

Resolved: That we favor the negotiation of commercial treaties that will open up new markets for American products and do away with tariff walls which now shut our farm products out of many foreign countries.

Whereas, The farmers are the largest shippers of freight over our railways and any increase in freight rates is, in the last analysis, chiefly paid by them; and

Resolved: That the national grange favors the right to charge higher freight and passenger rates, for which we believe there is no justification; therefore,

Resolved: That the national grange favors the strict regulation by the federal government of all railroads engaged in interstate commerce and urges that the interstate commerce commission forbid any increase in freight or passenger rates unless it can be shown that such increase is necessary in order to pay fair dividends on the capital actually invested in the road.

Resolved: That we favor the enactment of legislation to provide for ascertaining the true value of the railroads of the country so that it can be readily seen whether the proposed increase in charges is justifiable.

A NEW MOVEMENT.

A Central Bureau of Information and Research Suggested.

Upon the adjournment of the national grange the representation therein from the various state granges that believe in a forward and progressive policy met and after discussion unanimously agreed to form a permanent organization. The meeting adopted the following:

Resolved: That it is the sense of this body that a permanent organization of progressive state granges is desirable to deliberate upon and consider state affairs as recommended by State Master Kegley in his annual address to the Washington state grange June 7-10, 1910, as follows:

The establishment of the home governors and the organization of various societies to bring about uniformity of state laws which common sense shows should be uniform indicate a policy of co-operation which it would be well for the state granges to adopt. I believe that a conference of state granges to consider purely state matters would be of inestimable value. And as the state masters come together once a year to consider national affairs it would cost very little to stay together a day or two longer and organize a session to consider state affairs. Each state grange could well afford this slight extra expense, and I believe that it would be to our credit if we take the initiative to bring about such a conference.

The one great need, as I have come to see it, both in our national and state work, is a central bureau of information and research. Every organization other than our farm organizations that I know of maintains just such a bureau in charge of trained experts, with an ample staff of assistants to maintain the bureau in a high state of effectiveness. Any member of the National Manufacturers' association, for example, if the need arises, can wire headquarters and receive by return wire or mail the information required. There is not a business association of any importance that I know of that is not organized in this same way.

We need such a bureau and must have it if we are to be as effective an organization as we ought to be. No man can do research work and stay on the firing line, attending to executive work and at the same time keep his health if he is honest in his efforts to do both. The Washington grange of course could not maintain a bureau of this kind, but I believe we could co-operate with other state granges to maintain one that would be as efficient as and the equal of any bureau maintained by other organizations. These are things I would like you to consider, and I would be glad to take these matters up with other state masters with a view to securing united action if instructed by you to do so officially by the Washington state grange.

Resolved: That a committee composed of one member from each state grange represented in this conference or from such state granges as shall formally request to be admitted to membership in such permanent organization shall draft a plan of permanent organization and submit same to the respective state granges for their consideration or approval, each state executive committee to appoint its own member of said committee, which shall be designated as "committee on permanent organization." Said committee on permanent organization shall act as the executive committee of the conference.—American Agriculturist.

National Grange Footnotes.

Next meeting will be held at Columbus, O.

In New Jersey there are 132 granges, with 18,000 members.

New York has over 90,000 Patrons in about 750 granges.

There are 240 granges in Massachusetts, with 27,000 members.

The grange favors taxing autos 25 per cent per horsepower per year.

It costs about $500 a day to pay the bills of the national grange session.

The national grange declared itself against ship subsidy again and in no unambiguous terms.

State Master Godfrey of New York was re-elected to the executive committee for three years.

The question of changing the basis of representation in the national grange goes over to next year.

A resolution asking that open nominations of candidates for office in the grange be allowed was defeated.

State Master Gardner of Massachusetts is the orator of the national grange. He is a cultured speaker and well sustains the reputation of the old commonwealth.

reply. "The Indians were apt to be in wait for them at every turning. Ah, what pious men they were, to be sure! Think of them the next time you want to shirk your religious duties. Through snow and sleet, through bitter cold, through the perilous ambuscades of the savage Indians, they wended their way to church Sunday after Sunday with pious, thankful hearts. Yet you—"

"Oh, rats!" said the boy. "I'd go to church every day in the week if I could get a shot at an Indian on the way."

PROOF THAT PROVES

If one person more than another should know the value of medicine, it is the retail druggist.

Therefore when ten thousand retail druggists of the United States recommend Vinol the delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil, as the best strengthening tonic known and are willing to return their customers' money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction, there can be no room for doubt.

Among others, one of the most reliable druggists of Lynn, Mass., Mr. Warren Toppin, says, "From personal experience I know what Vinol will do. I had a chronic cold all winter, and was so weak I could hardly get about. Nothing seemed to help me until I tried Vinol—the change was magic—and what surprised me most, Vinol not only cured the cold but built me up and cured me of a severe stomach trouble that had bothered me for twenty years. Vinol is certainly a wonderful medicine." (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

We ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person suffering from chronic coughs and colds to try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that their money will be returned if it does not do all we claim. People's Drug Store, C. Wm. Beales, proprietor, Gettysburg, Pa.

Scientific Love

By WILLIS BEACH POTTER

Copyright, 1911, by American Press Association.

A recent interview of a newspaper man with Mr. Edison, the wizard of Menlo Park, brought out Mr. Edison's statement that the living body is a mere machine, or, rather, that it is composed of millions of minute cells, each having its own individuality. He compares a man to a city containing an enormous number of people like London, New York or Berlin. The brain, according to this doctrine, is a complex camera or storehouse of innumerable photographic plates, each one of which has received an impression during the man's life to be used on occasion; that these plates are what we call memory. This is a purely scientific view and does not pertain to the soul.

Lord Tenterton, an English nobleman, had a daughter who had been engaged to be married to a son of a merchant prince. This young man, Sidney Hough, died and left the girl disconsolate. Sir Percy Scarborough, a friend of Lord Tenterton, had a son who had gone through a similar experience. He had loved Rose MacAlister, the daughter of a Scotch laird, and lost her by quick consumption.

Now, Lord Tenterton was poor, and he desired to ally his family with the wealthier blood of England. Moreover, his lordship was a scientist with original ideas. He considered only the scientific part of love and, looking upon the brain on the Edisonian principle of innumerable photographic plates, conceived the idea of a gradual substitution of images on his daughter's brain to change her memory of her dead lover to a live one.

If this could be done with her it might be done with young Scarborough. Tenterton called on Sir Percy and proposed a scheme. Sir Percy was much disappointed at his son's failure to marry that the family might be perpetuated and was ready for any plan that would induce him to do so. But Hugh Scarborough, like Edith Tenterton, refused to be comforted and would not consent to take another mate. What Lord Tenterton proposed was accepted for trial, and the needful was supplied by the engagement of a portrait painter.

One day Lord Tenterton returned to his home from London with a portrait. His daughter, entering his study, saw it hanging on the wall. She was struck with its resemblance to her dead lover. She said nothing to her father, who pretended to be busy writing at his desk, though he was really watching her. He saw her gaze upon it for a long while; then she went out to congeal her emotion. The portrait was that of the man she mourned, yet slightly different. She believed it to be the likeness of some one who very much resembled him. Not long after this she came into her father's study again under pretense of asking a question, but really to look at the picture. It seemed to her that it had undergone a slight change; but, being in the same place and in the same frame as the one she had seen before, she thought she was mistaken. From time to time she visited the study to gaze upon the portrait, and every time she found some slight change.

The portrait had been painted by the artist employed to carry out the scheme, and he was gradually altering it from a picture very like her dead lover to a likeness of Hugh Scarborough. And while he was doing this he was changing a portrait of Rose MacAlister to one of Edith Tenterton. Sir Percy was imposing on his son these pictures, substituting one for another, just as Lord Tenterton was imposing on his daughter the dissolving picture of Sidney Hough. Finally after a long interval both portraits had been altered from the dead to the quick.

The Tentertons and the Scarboroughs lived in different shires. When the transformation of the portraits had been completed Lord Tenterton invited Sir Percy to visit him and to bring with him his son. Scarborough insisted upon Hugh's going with him, and when on the evening of their arrival Hugh and Edith met at dinner there was a scene of much interest to the two fathers. Hugh stood with wide open eyes gazing upon Edith, while Edith cast one glance at Hugh, blushed and lowered her eyes to the floor.

"Be seated," said Lord Tenterton, pretending not to notice this mutual impression, though while the young people were intent upon each other he winked at Sir Percy. Hugh and Edith had been assigned seats side by side and were soon engaged in a conversation more animated than either had taken part in since they had lost their loves. After dinner they were left alone by their elders, who went off together. During the evening Hugh made this remark to Edith:

"Did I not know you to be a living person I should believe you—so far as appearance is concerned—to be one who is dead."

"I have a similar experience in you," she replied. "Your likeness to one who is no more is something remarkable."

A month later the two fathers were congratulating themselves that the son of the one and the daughter of the other were to be married.

"I tell you, Scarborough," said Tenterton, "these Americans are a great people. They will before long analyze love and tell us how to bring about affinities in people the same as in chemistry."

"You bet!" replied Sir Percy.

OILING SHELL ROADS.

The Successful Results of Trials of Houston, Tex.

The application of oil to the shell roads which are more or less common in the south, as well as in some of the northern coast cities, has apparently been tried successfully in Houston, Tex., the mayor stating that the results were so satisfactory that he hoped to be able to treat all the shelled streets in that city in the same manner.

The material used was an asphaltic oil which was heated to something over 200 degrees before application. It was shipped in tank cars fitted with steam coils, by means of which it was heated by a portable boiler and allowed to run into distributing wagons. The roads were first cleaned of all dust and the oil applied at the rate of about one gallon a square yard.

The street was allowed to soak up as much of the oil as possible, the surplus being absorbed by sand or dust spread over the street and then swept off, exposing the original surface.

The average cost of hauling one ton of produce one mile in the United States is 23 cents; in Europe it is 8 cents. With equally as good roads as the French peasant enjoys the American farmers could save $20,000,000 a year.

"For fear of the Indians," was the
